From your Department Head

From the first minute, I saw in Nezar the energy that can light a town — positive, ambitious, hard-working, just a few of his qualities. Above all, he is a real innovator. Every day I would wait for his surprise feature on the product to see what he was hiding under his magician's hat. It doesn't require an hour of explanation from me; he gets it just like that. A few words, we're aligned on the vision, and a few hours later, he comes back with something to show us.
